“ Sending my condolences to all the hearts that Savannah touched.
She was one of my dearest friends and spent more time in the passenger seat of my car than anyone else has, I think.
I will remember her shining smile and beautiful soul.
I will remember her when I dance in my car to the music we used to listen to.
I will remember Halloween baskets to each other and fuzzy socks.
I will remember queso dates.
I will remember her holding my hand while I winced from getting my chest tattooed.
I will remember her when I practice Reckless optimism every day.
I will love her and keep her in my heart forever.

“ I was truly humbled by Mark & Rhonda’s willingness to act upon Savannah’s wishes to be an organ donor and was honored to participant in what was a sacred moment of time in Savannah’s life. Let me share one of the prayers that were spoken early Saturday morning.

“Lord, please wrap your arms around this family and these friends to provide comfort at this time of loss. We are envious of the time you will be spending with our beautiful girl Savannah. Bless her for the unselfish donation of her vital organs that will provide life for others. Standby Mark & Rhoda as they move forward in their life journey with Savannah as a beautiful and loving memory. In Christ’s name we pray. Amen.”

My deepest sympathies to Mark, Rhonda and my Aunt Sally

“ I never met her, but I knew her.
I never saw her, but I saw her.
I never talked with her, but I heard her.
I did all of those thing through the eyes and words of her uncle Mitch. He was always so proud and loved her and shared his pride and love.
And now I share the grief of Mitch and the entire family. Thank you for donating her organs so other families can celebrate, even as you grieve. My hugs to each of you.
