“ Agnes was a woman of great talent, & unwavering strength. Her devotion to family was unconditionally loyal. I've known this beautiful lady most of my life. Her daughter is my best friend. When I was in my teens, I could speak to Agnes about anything troubling, & she would give me good advice. I've always respected & loved her. I have no doubt, she is happily reunited with her mom, her dad, her brothers that she protected, her dear sister, Mary, & little David. Mostly, I think she went straight to AJ's arms. I have never seen Agnes happier, than when she was with AJ. We will not be sad, but Praise God for where you are. Until we see you again. I love you ❤️

“ We love you Agnes. You are the best mom, wife and parent. You are a leader and not a follower. When you made up your mind to do something there was no changing it. I am glad that you were a part of my life, always loving and caring for those around you. I am happy to be a part of your going home celebration. You are in perfect peace now and will live eternity in paradise with our Lord and savior and those that have gone before us. There will be a time when we will all be together when Jesus returns for His sheep.

“ Agnes, you lived life surrounded and supported by the love of your family and you left this world the same way. What a reunion took place in Heaven the moment your soul began to soar. You raised a strong family, and although their pain is great, they have a steadfast faith and wonderful memories to wrap around them. Rest now, Agnes.. Your battle is won.

We send our hugs, love, and prayers of support to everyone who is hurting and grieving.
