“ You will never see another person like this. Someone that you never heard a bad thing come from her mouth and always seemed happy. Its amazing to think someone can live this long and still rember things like she did. It was amazing and made you admire her. SHe was a great cook and a all around amazing person. I can rember her sewing and the house with all the peach trees and can rember eating there many times. It makes you want to think about the things you do in life and makes you want to be a better person to the extent of trying to live your life in a positive way like she did. She will be missed and I think all of use miss her on a daily basis becuse she was such a great person. This and the generation after her are the greatest generation bottom line without a doubt. Well just wanted to post this and say I miss her and regret not being able to see her more.
