

Barbara Ruth Neeper

May 20, 1936 - April 3, 2023

Barbara Moore Neeper passed away on April 3, 2023. Barbara was born in Sheep Creek, Kentucky to John Luke Moore and Edith Eastin Moore on May 20, 1936.

Barbara earned her degree from Auburn University. She was a long-time member of St John's United Methodist Church. Barbara was a docent for many years at the Fort Bend County Museum and taught spinning wool and cotton into yarn on spinning wheels there. She loved gardening, her pets, history, trivia, playing bridge, and her family.

Barbara was preceded in death by her husband, Billy Mack Neeper. She is survived by John Paul Moore, Bruce and Debi Neeper, Julie and Doug Villaescusa, and William Neeper and Bella Serimontrikul.

For those wishing, memorials may be directed in Barbara's name to your local S.P.C.A.

The family invites you to join them in the chapel at Davis-Greenlawn funeral home for visitation from 5:00 to 7:00 pm on April 27, 2023.

“ Barbara was a such a beloved member of our little Belmont community. She always had the most amazing landscape around her home, and was always generous with her time in sharing her wealth of information with others. She taught me so many things about flowers and plants through the years. I was so blessed to call her neighbor and friend! Sherry Glazener

“ Barbara will always have a place in Fort Bend Museum history as many a docent (and staff) learned their spinning skills for the textiles program from her. I'm sorry I never had the pleasure of meeting her. Thank you for your generous heart, Barbara, and I send my condolences to her family.

“ Over twenty years ago, Barbara taught me how to spin during one of her textile training sessions at the Fort Bend County Museum. I have often thought of her over the years and will always be grateful for the patience and kindness she showed to me. Each time I sit at my wheel, I will fondly recall the times we shared upstairs in the Moore home carding and spinning. Thank you to Barbara, and my condolences to her family and to her many friends.
