“ I first learned about and met Darrell, along with Butch in the early 1990's. I had asked Paul and Eddie from Kingwood Goodyear about repainting my car. They told me that they normally don't recommend other shops. When I pressed them a little more, they told me the only place and people they trusted with their restored collectable cars and motorcycles was with Darrell and Butch. Got to spend many hours over the years with my teenager's cars there, along with my own. I found Darrell's honest, straightforward demeanor refreshing. He felt larger than life to me. I was able to spend many hours there with him and Butch, just to be a gofer and learn about the trade. I especially enjoyed time spend having lunch with both. I will miss him, but will always cherish my memories of him.

“ Dear Ayers Family,
Your father was an honest man. He told me he was a "pretty good body man" back in the day...it made me smile because watching Butch and the many people at the shop it was obvious. I enjoyed getting to know Darrell. We had spent many hours together recently...I dont think I was ready for him to leave us...it is always too soon.

“ I am so sorry to learn that my friend has passed away. We had known each other from the time he started his business. I always enjoyed Darrell's company and would visit and jive with him often, even after I left Houston. Although I had known him for a long time, I did not know that he was a Marine Brother. Semper Fi Darrell, may you now rest in peace. My sincere sympathy to Butch and all the family. I will miss him.

“ I have known Darrell my whole life, He was my Dads best friend since kindergarden. I have alot of unforgettable memories. He was a wonderful person in my life. I will miss our monthly phone calls. The only thought that gives me peace is that he is reunited with my Dad and as they have always said, we are in Gods country fishing.

“ I will miss having the talks we used to have. Darrell was a straight forward honest man. He was always more concerned about how I was doing than himself. I appreciated him very much. Darrell was a great man, father and friend. I'll miss him.
