She also had a large garden and fruit trees where she always shared her crop with many family and friends. She butchered many chickens and made their own sausage for their family and friends. Dorothy was a big part of her grandchildren's lives, never turning down an invitation to babysit. Dorothy also enjoyed playing Bingo with her friends at the church. In her later years, Dorothy spend most of her time visiting with her children and grandchildren and she always felt so blessed to have her 2 children live next door to her. Most evenings she was ready to sit outside with whoever stopped by for a cold beer. And every morning she looked forward to receiving her brother's phone call for a long chat over coffee and her sister's evening phone call was always a time to discuss their day's activity.

Her kindness and selflessness touched many lives and she will be deeply missed.
