“ Mr. Earl was my crosswalker when I was in elementary school. I remember one year when I was little he gave me a gift on my birthday. Three or four years later, after not walking to school due to my parents work for a couple years, he still remembered my birthday. When my older brother entered middle school he missed the bus once. Luckily his bus stop was at the cross walk, and Mr. Earl, the wonderful man he was, waited until the bells rang for the elementary school, and then drove my brother to school. I have a very fond memory of Mr. Earl and will always cherish his kindness and love for others in my heart. We miss you Mr. Earl.

“ I worked at Gulf Oil Cedar Bayou plant from 1975-1980. Working in the polyethylene plant, equipment was always being in need of repair. Earl Norra was the go- to man for everything and anything. He knew what was needed to fix a compressor or pump or valve and could explain it all in great detail. Mostly when I think of Earl, I remember his kindness to me, a new female engineer at the time. He treated me equally and respectfully. I learned a lot from him. Prayers for Earl and all his family.

“ I did not know Mr. Earl personally, yet he felt like a member of our family. I have driven my grandsons to and from school daily for the past three years and always looked forward to seeing Mr. Earl and receiving a wave and friendly smile from him. On the mornings we arrived too early and he wasn't there yet, it always felt like something was missing as we really looked forward to seeing him. It is so hard to imagine that we will never again see his bright smile on our daily commute. It was apparent that he loved the children and was dedicated to protecting them as well as sending them on their way with a little humor, a pat on the shoulder or just some kind words. We will miss you dearly, Mr. Earl.

“ I love you, Mr. Norra. You, your lovely wife and of course, my dear friend, Leslie, and all the Norras are family to my mother and I. God certainly received a great angel in you. What makes me smile is knowing you are now with Mrs. Norra, your parents, and all the "oldie" music makers. I am sure you are chatting it up with everyone : Please say hello to my Grandmother while you're there : You and Mrs. Norra will always have a special place in our hearts.

“ Remembering my friend Earl from our time at Gulf Oil back in the sixties. He was always in a hurry to finish the job at hand and get on with the next one. Earl was an old fashioned man, worked hard, respected everyone he came in contact with and made many friends by just being Earl. I was happy to renew acquaintance with Earl these past several years at St Laurence. I'm quite sure Earl's life will qualify him to for early arrival in Heaven. He's probably looking around to see what he can do to help. May God bless dear Earl.

“ He was the crossing guard for my children for several years. The nicest, kindest guy you could find. The kids looked forward to chatting with him every morning on the way around the crosswalks. He was also one of the best guards, very capable of managing the traffic, and I felt completely confident when he was there in spite of the crazy drivers. He was one of the shining stars in this world and it's a bit darker for his passing. My condolences to his family and close friends for their loss.
