“ When Emma was happy, her smile lit up the room. I will never forget when my class performed their lip sync assignment in Theater Production. Emma walked on the stage like she was royalty! Taylor Swift's Blank Space began to play and what I saw was a performance worth remembering! Emma knew every word and she owned it! She was so happy and so into the song and the moment. I grabbed my camera and I had to take a picture. I sent it and others from the class to the school principal and a social media post was made about our class activity that day. For me, it was heart warming to see Emma enjoying performance so much. Emma was always willing to share and always willing to encourage. She was a fantastic cheerleader for the Bluejay Stage Company and our hearts are broken. Please accept my condolences. My prayers and thoughts are with you and your family.
Sincerely,
Katrese Skinner

“ I am friends with Emma. I didn't know her that well, but I knew that she loved Hamilton and she was the biggest Taylor Swift fan I ever met. She kind of reminded me of my sweet cousin and that's when I saw her as. We were in a few productions together last year in Matilda, we were in the senior direct and in frozen junior until she got out of it. Google classroom she would put the sweetest, kindest stuff on there and it would always make my heart warm.. I also had class with her, my fourth period production. This week has been a little rough going into that classroom. Feeling a very big empty space there. She was the kindest girl I ever met and I'm really sad that she's gone now but I know she's in a better place. I care for her deeply and I am sending all my prayers to her family.

“ I was a close friend of Emmas. We sometimes had sleepovers or went out to do things on occasion, we were even in theatre together. I remember bantering with her at rehearsals for Frozen Jr. from my spot up on the catwalk down to her on the stage, throwing stuff like cardboard. I don't remember what we spoke about, but I remember having a great time. I really miss her, and its hard to accept that she is not here anymore, thinking she's just taking another day off.
