“ Milton & Judy:

I am really going to miss your dad and the stories he always had to tell me when he came into the dentist office. He was one of our pets. I knew when he said "listen" he always had something important to tell me. He will really be missed and always loved.

God Bless you and your family.

“ Ken,

I first became friends with your dad when I worked in the County Commissioner's Office he would come in for business. We discussed every subject under the sun and I was always able to relate to his stories because I, too, was raised on a farm. Also, my seat in the Adult Sunday School Class faced the window that overlooked the West Street sidewalk and I could set my watch by his arrival at 9:15 a.m. every Sunday. He enjoyed arriving early for the Church service so he could visit with folks in the Parrish hall before the service began. When we visited, he always had a few bits of wisdom, or a story to impart. He will be be greatly missed. God Bless you and your entire family.

“ Larry looked forward every Sunday morning to having coffee with your Dad before & after church. I don't think there was ever a Sunday that they were both there that they didn't chat. We will both miss him very much.

“ Kenneth and family, It was with a saddened heart that I heard of your Dad's passing away. I looked forward to the Sunday morning "bantering" that your Dad and I had on deciding which one of us got into more "trouble" each week. He'd smile his famous smile and tell me I got into more trouble because I had more time to cause trouble. Besides, he was older and wiser and knew better! I loved your Dad and will truly miss his smile on Sunday mornings. He was always saying, " If I woke up this morning, it was going to be a good day."

My thoughts and prayers are with your family today and always.

Love,

Brenda
