“ To My 1st Hero

Dad you are my hero, you always have been. Dad you were a very loving and caring father. Dad you were also a kind, wise, and helpful man to all that needed help. Dad you were always very well respected by all of your neighbors, no matter where you lived.

Dad, yes I am very blessed to have had the chance to tell you that you are my hero, and all you would say is thank you meho. The last 5 years have been a blessing to me, that I got to spend so much time with you and Mom. Dad I remember when you could still walk and we were at the table drinking a soda and coffee, talking about old times at my beautiful sister, Delia's home. My beautiful sister, Leona, was with us. The 4 of us started talking about God. I had told you there was no God, I then said if there really was a God, he would send his golden chariots pulled by golden horses to bring you home to him. You never gave up on me, you never forced your beliefs on me. But Dad, you saved my soul, you brought me back home to the Lord. Dad I know in my heart that you got that golden ride to Heaven. Dad, today we are all sad that we will never hear you joke again or see your smiling face anymore. Dad you would always tell me don't be unhappy when I was feeling blue. You would say God is wonderful, for God has blessed us. I now understand what you meant.

Dad we are also happy and joyful knowing you are with Mom in Heaven now. All of us know you loved Mom very much. You always put Mother first, her needs, her wants. you lived life to please her. I also know that in heaven, you can walk again, and you can dance once more. Dad you can run and climb the highest mountain or anything you want to. You can fix or build anything you may feel like again. In Heaven you are whole again. Now God has one more great craftsman in Heaven, with the of God's angels.

Mr. Felix Zeno, My Father, My Dad, I would always smile when you would call yourself "just the little ole man". Well Dad you were never just a little ole man; to your 4 children, 12 grand-children and 22 Great grand-children, you were a giant of a man. Full of life, always faithful, a God fearing giant of a man.

Dad I remember the first time we went fishing in Michigan. You shook your head and laughed. you asked why I had so much fishing gear, you said when you were young all you had was a cane pole and string. You laughed again when I told you A man always has to have a lot of toys. You helped me drag all my gear and we caught a lot of small fish that day from shore. Small yet they were big fish to us on that day. I had a great time and you told me you did too. I think you just said that so I wouldn't feel bad. You were always that way, even with all the flying bugs that bit us up that morning. Dad I am very happy that you got to see your Chicago Bulls win 5 Championships and your Chicago Bears win the Super Bowl in 1986, also your beloved Chicago White Sox win their first World Series, You I and Mom watched that game together. Dad as you had many sports heroes. You were my First hero and always will be. I Love you Dad, Thank you for being my hero!!! All my love, Fred Zeno

“ I am sorry for the loss of your dear loved one. When our Savior, Jesus Christ walked the earth he cured many people. He even resurrected loved ones back to life here on earth such as Lazarus. Jesus did this to demonstrate what he will do on a much larger scale in the near future. At John chapter 5 verses 28 and 29, Jesus said, "Do not marvel at this, because the hour is coming in which ALL those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out."

“ Mr. Zeno we will dearly miss you. We will miss his stories of his life with Mrs. Zeno and his family! He always had a smile on his face, the kind of man that his heart was bigger then anything we've known. He seamed to enjoy the simple things in life like working on his house and car. He would always tell us he would walk again one day and that day has come. He is now walking side by side with Mrs. Zeno in heaven!

*We love you,
