“ Yolanda my heart aches for you because they say the hardest thing for a human to feel is the loss of a child. He was a grown man but he will always be your little boy. Our kids grow up but they will always be our babies. Just think that he is now hugging your mom, dad & his cousin Michelle ! They say life is like running a race & it just so happened that he crossed the finish line before the rest of us. Lean on the Lord to lead you thru this dark valley because He will not leave your side. Believe me when I say that my mom & I are praying for you. My brother Rudy sends his sincere condolences.

“ Even though I did not know you Tino I feel like I did. I have known Felicia for about 9 years and over the course of those years she has shared stories of you, her and the kids. You were a very loving husband and father, you will missed by all who loved and care about you. Enjoy that fishing hole you found up there...

“ Tino was a great friend and fishing partner of mine, if it wasn't for him I probably would have never picked up a fishing pole. We spent countless hours at the creek sharing good stories and now great memories that will be with me forever. I went to the creek Sunday May 5 2013 about 9 pm. As soon as I step out the car I could feel him there, and as soon as I started to pray and the tears rolled down I could hear the fish jumping and I knew he was there. My prayers go to his family and friends. Gone but never forgotten. Rest in peace
