“ Our thoughts and prayers are with the entire Scheffer family. Floyd wasn't always the most talkative of men but the constant grin he had on his face let everyone around him know that he was a very content man. I'm sure that had eveything to do with the pride he took in his family and that was so well deserved. Great guy, great family. God Bless you all - The Burnamans

“ Before I met Floyd, I thought I knew what a good friend and good neighbor was. Well, I was wrong. Floyd redefined both terms for me.

Floyd was the kind of friend few people have the good fortune to have in this life.

We could sit and watch smoke drift out of the BBQ pit for hours without saying a word to each other and have the time of our lives. We went to an Oilers game one time with tickets I got at work. Turned out the seats were in the press box and all we could see was from the 45 yard line to the 50 yard line. Didn't matter, we watched what we could see, drank a couple of beers and had fun.

We could laugh at each others mistakes ; I remember how amused Floyd was at my ;sun burned arms; when I used his arc welder with a short sleeve shirt on and how I laughed until I cried watching Floyd deal with a fire he started by testing his propane tank for leaks with a match.

We also had a friendly rivalry of sorts. I built a BBQ pit out of a 5 foot piece of 16 inch pipe. Well, the next thing I knew, Floyd call me over to inspect his latest purchase. I wasn't surprised to see an 8 foot piece of 36 inch pipe and a five foot piece of 48 inch pipe. ;Leo;, he said ; can you help me figure out how to make this stuff into a BBQ pit? ; ;Sure, no problem; I said, and you know the rest.

As a neighbor. As soon as I got to know Floyd, he installed a gate in the fence between our back yards as it was too much trouble to ring the front door bells when we needed to see each other or to borrow something. I knew I was welcome to use anything he had and he had every tool you could think of – his favorites were a 24 inch screw driver, a BIG hammer and a 18 inch pair of slip joint pliers and he knew he was welcome to use any thing I had or to ask me to use his tools to solve one of his problems.

Floyd was always there when you needed him and never ask for anything in return.

Floyd never made excuses, never told me a lie and never let me down.

Floyd was my best friend.

“ I am sorry that I will not be able to be with you to celebrate Floyd's life. He was one of the kindest, gentlest, strong men I have ever met. A man of not many words, when he gave you a compliment, you knew it came from the heart. I prepared an Easter Sunrise service many years ago at Lord of Joy, and not knowing how it would go, was absolutely blown away by Floyd coming up to me afterward and telling me that was one of the best sunrise services he had ever attended. I was so honored because I knew he really meant those words. I also remember him telling me a story about barbequeing two small pigs and the only way that he could get both in his grill at the same time was to sit them up facing each other. The picture in my mind still makes me laugh. I will miss his quiet dignity at church and want his family to know how honored I was to have known this quiet man. God Bless You. The entire Scheffer Family is in my thoughts and prayers during this time of transition.

“ Floyd Scheffer, my father in law, was my Godly example of a father here on Earth. Humble, hardworking, church going, modest and Godly man. He didn't bring attention to himself, he just walked the walk - and has been a wonderful 'nother dad to me for the past 29 years. We have hope because of the love of Christ, the promises of God's word, and the assurance that we will one day be together again. Jesus won the Victory over death on the cross. On Sunday, August 26 at 6:40pm, as Pastor Olivares recited the 23rd Psalm, Floyd went home to be with the Lord Jesus Christ.. to a perfect place with no pain or suffering, and now we celebrate his life, just as they are celebrating in heaven.. and today, heaven is having some awesome Bar B Q! I love you Floyd and we will all miss you. Until we meet again... Sherri
