“ So, many years ago, Ginger talked me into going to see the Chippendales "dance" in Rosenberg. And she was the first person at work I told that I was expecting my daughter. Ginger was irreverent and spiritual, flirty and funny, loyal and caring. When next I hear thunder rolling through the heavens, I'll know it's just Ginger kicking up her heels.

“ Oh Aunt Ginger. How things will never be the same!! I will miss your smile, your giggles, and your sweet I love yous. I am so glad that all of us Johnston's were able to spend time with you in these last few months. These are memories I will treasure and keep alive. We will remember you each time we read Liam one of the many books you gave him, and we will encourage him to be the best Liam he can be - just like you always encouraged him. Though I have only been part of the family for thirteen years, you made me feel welcome from day one. Thank you for being such a big part of Lowry's life from such an early age. Your support, encouragement, and love helped mold him into the man, husband and father he is today. Without you, Janet, and Granny, (three incredibly strong women, I might add) I would not have the amazing husband I have today.

Though we will miss you terribly, I take comfort knowing that Grandpa, Granny, Marc, and lots of other family members and dear friends have welcomed you home with huge hugs and no doubt, a roaring party!

I will watch for you through the birdies, butterflies, and other little ways that I know you will continue to be present in our lives. Now go rest high on that mountain, your work on Earth is done.

With all my love,
Cristy Johnston

Ginger will be truly missed. I believed that God send her for a purpose and her mission is complete. In school, she was one of sweetest person ever. She was a beautiful person with a great personality. Always had a smile on her face, and a kind word for everyone. She was like the butterfly that stopped to smell the flowers and always ready to lend a hand. Love you. RIP

“ Shortly after I returned to Rosenberg , one day there was a knock at the door. There stood a grinning little lady I had not seen since high school. Ginger and I visited for over an hour. Later we would have lunch and share more memories. Ginger the free spirit is now in a far better place.

Ginger will be so missed
She would always call when she had news about someone in our class. If we had a question about someone she would try to find out about that person. We enjoyed being the two Gingers in our class.
Ginger is our newest Angel visiting with our other friends. I will miss her bubbling personality! She can now rest without pain.
RIP in peace Ginger 1.

I can say that I have never known anyone who ALWAYS had a smile on their face, even while fighting major, serious health issues, than Ginger. She made my day whenever I would see her at the Rosenberg Post Office and we would visit for a long while and then part with a sweet hug. Ginger came from a great family who will miss her dearly as will all that have known her. When I was told of her passing, I had tears running down my cheeks for a long time. However, not anything like now that i have read all the memories of those left on here. I love her and will miss her all the days of my life.

“ Ginger was such a sweet lady and full of energy. We retired around the same time and kept in touch occasionally. My condolences to her family. She is with the Lord now, free of pain and worry. Loving God, I pray that you take our friend Ginger into your loving arms. See you later Ginge. Tom Traill
