“ The past days have led to much reflection and one conclusion: the world is a happier, more loving and inspired place because of Uncle Henry. The photos of him and Aunt Sherry sharing a kiss while washing dishes at a family reunion feel as if they were taken yesterday, while images of the Schneider kids all acting like class clowns still make us laugh. It's the amazing memories of joy, wine and good conversation that will always ring in our minds and the love Uncle Henry had for his family that will always inspire us. We love you both. God Bless

“ Sherry, my dear, you are going to miss him. His smile and wit always complimented yours and you always appeared as two happy peas in a pod. It seemed you always moved in the same direction on things, unless it involved a golf course or fishing trip. I remember most his stories about H.F. McNeil when we were dedicating the school and of course, how proud he spoke of his children.

“ Death is something that we are never ready for. It is in our nature to want to keep our loved ones around. But death does come to us all. We can take comfort in Jehovah's word. In Rev. 21:3,4 He tell us he will put a stop to all sickness, & death will be no more. Through the ramson sacrifice of Jesus Christ, we might have everlasting life. John 16:3 Isn't it trully a comfort to know that we will see our loved ones again.

“ We have fond memories of Sherri and Henry as a beautiful couple in 1955-1956 as we all attended Lamar Consolidated High School. I too remember we shared great basketball plays for Lamar

We are so sorry for your loss. Remember that Henry is part of who you are, of how you see the world, of how you live and give. Those priceless gifts are yours forever. The boundless love and caring you gave Henry lets you now know that he is forever with God.
