“ Jacob passed in as peaceful a way as he lived. Truly a man in whom there is no guile. The hard pain of his family is understood by all because of the love that was always demonstrated to everyone he came in contact with, regardless of who they were. I will always remember Jacob and hope to walk as him, in love of his family and friends with honesty of speech and action. Jacob completed his race and has received his crown. We will all miss him till we see him again.

“ I have not known Jacob personally as a co-worker since we were at different facilities of the City of Sugar Land. On that morning that I was attending a workshop held at the Education Room at Surface Water Treatment Admin building, John Bailey and I were talking as we looked at the plant from the training room window and I noticed that someone was making his round at the plant, walking along by the rail making his way around the building. It was Jacob as I would learn later. The next instance that I saw him was his figure on the floor 2 doors down from where we were having the training. I said the prayers that I could while the event was unfolding. Later on, I learned how young he was when the sad news was communicated to me. I learned how a beautiful person he was from colleagues. God always has a special reason for things that happen. For one, I know that Jacob is now one of my inspirations in understanding life. To Rachel, parents, and all the family of Jacob, may the Lord continue to bless you and provide you the grace of remembering always the beautiful memories Jacob left behind.
