Janet was my cousin. I had a strange call today about Uncle Bob and I was looking for her number online, but the first thing to pop up was her obituary. It shook me. I loved her very much. This world will definitely not be as sweet without her in it. Janet was full of light and happiness and it spilled over to all around her. At least she's at home in heaven with all our dear family that went before her. I know for certain that my dad, Al, was there to greet her with a great big smile.
