“ Jennifer you were my first ever friend. I'm so lucky to have grown up on the same road with you and Kristie. I remember riding the go cart for hours, playing school in the little building, serving 'snow cones' behind Pete's 18-wheeler, drive thru restaurant in my playhouse. I remember going with my grandma to visit your grandma and we'd go in the closet and watch the projector. You'd come eat supper at my house because we always ate at 6 and y'all didn't eat until later. You always called my dad OB tampon lol. When you'd spend the night with me, we had to do what you wanted because you said you were my guest but when I'd spend the night with you, you'd say it's your house lol. You were so funny, and we laughed so much. So many of my first memories include you. I'm so sad that I haven't seen you since Kaitlyn's 5th or 6th birthday party. We talked often about getting together but never did. You were always so kind and I'm blessed to have had you in my life growing up. I'm praying every day for Mel, your babies, Betty and Lisa. I hope they find some kind of comfort and peace. Until we meet again friend...

“ You will always be my baby sister, Jennifer, and will forever hold an intimate and special place in my heart. I am incredibly blessed to have shared 50 years with you on this planet, and there is no way to count all the lives you positively touched. The ripples of your love will carry forward 'til the end of time. Until we meet again, may you be wrapped in so much love, peace, and joy.. and remember whatever you get up to on the other side to always take it "EEeeezzyyyy...."!!! I love you so much!! Your big sis, Lisa 🧡🕊️🧡
