“ I give my sincere condolences to the families and friends. Johnny was greatly loved and will be missed. The best description of Jehovah God is that he is love. It talks of this at 2 Corinthians 13:11 where it says, "Finally, brothers, continue to rejoice, to be readjusted, to be comforted, to think in agreement, to live peaceably, and the God of love and of peace will be with you." This love is the reason why we can be confident that Jehovah will remember those in the memorial tombs in the near future and we will be reunited with our loved ones. Please take comfort in that knowledge.

“ Dear Bunnie,

I am so sorry for your loss. I worked with John in the Support Center for many years. He would always make us laugh, and he would tell the story of how he met you and had been in love with you forever. We could never wait for the next Pot Luck fully knowing that John would be bringing your brownies.. It was so awesome one of the last times he told us that he was supervised by you and made them himself. He just grinned from ear to ear. Your family is in our prayers right now, and God bless you and yours.

“ John was kind enough to teach me my first steps w Care4 when I started w the Support Center. Even after he retired he worked on my home computer for me. My husband and John became quite chummy over a couple of days clicking away at a box we tend to put too much focus on in our normal daily routine. I know your home, John. But those of us still waiting to go will be missing you.
