“ Kenneth will be surely missed, he was a good father and his kid meant everything to him. I got the pleasure to know him while we worked together at Schlumberger. He and I share the drive to Rosharon, and that 45 mins to and from work you get to know someone pretty well. I also had the pleasure of still seeing kenneth's work still today in the equipment I work with everyday that he designed. I can also tell you that he did not let on when he was hurting physically and he want be a friend even when he was not feeling good himself.

My Friend, Please Rest In Peace
