“ To the Whatley Family, our hearts were saddened to hear about Lori this week. Maggie is a dear friend of our daughter, Cara, from First Academy where we came to know Lori. She had such a sweet and caring heart. Our prayers are with your family and Lori's precious children she loved so much.

“ James and Children, Bill and Nancy, and Andy and Allison and all the family, our hearts and prayers continue to go out to you. We know you have all been through unspeakable sorrow, and words are woefully inadequate.
Just know that you are loved, and that you are always in our hearts and in His Hands.
With our love and compassion.....

“ I had no idea that Lori's illness would take her life so soon. In addition to the things said of her in the obituary, she was a precious, bright and gifted student. She and I had many good conversations when she was at Travis Elementary. My heart aches for all of you. It appears that God picks some of His most precious flowers. May His love and faith sustain you.

*My love and continued prayers,
Barbara*
