“ Mark esposito was nothing short of a two bit thief who stole my idea. that idea being the haunted house movie that I created back in 1983. Let's hope that that bastard is rotting in Dante's inferno.

“ "Pops" Esposito.....the OG of "Retro" video game content 🙌 . I think we all feel like we knew him because of Tyler's YouTube channel. The world needs more people like Pops.

Very good man and very good family.

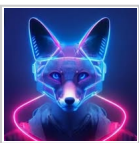

God bless you guys.

“ I never knew Mark, to be honest. However, I feel like I got to know a lot about him through the My Retro Life videos posted by his son, Tyler. I can tell that he was a loving and caring father that'd do anything he could for his son. And both he and his son share a fondness and love for video games like myself since I was a little kid. Not only did he seem like a wonderful father, but also a wonderful fella in general.

“ I shared offices with Mark for a few years. He and I hit it off instantly and would spend way too much time making each other laugh at the dumbest stories. When he got sick I remember him calling me to tell me. I'm sure he assured everyone, including me, that he would be fine. A week before he passed his wife called Mark's friends over to the house to say goodbye. He knew his time was coming. That was back in 2007. For some reason he is on my mind today in 2021, and I have the urge to visit his grave in Richmond. We all meet people we stay attached too, even after they go.

“ Mark was my best friend beginning when we were both 6 years old. We had great fun making movies in Super 8 and collecting silent movies and later sound films in 16mm! I still think about him, and miss him, every day.

“ Anna, Tyler and family,

The joy of life begins with a smile. If we are are blessed to meet remarkable people along the journey, the smiles become memories and the memories last forever.

Mark unselfishly gave so many people a reason to smile and thankfully we were blessed to cross his path.

He will be missed yet remembered for his sweet spirit. May God place angels to comfort you all as He welcomes Mark home.

With love,

The Angelos

Matthew 5:4 - "Blessed are those who mourn, for they shall be comforted.

“ Our prayers are with you as we celebrate Mark's life.

May the Lord be your strength and comfort.

"The Lord is nigh unto them that are of a broken heart" Psalm 34:18

We love you!
