“ My sincerest condolences to all of you. I can still hear the laughter that ran through the office as he made the rounds. Tony had a way of livening things up adding laughter to long extended days. I know that he saw E2 as his family and that he was loved by management and co-workers. He talked about his children and always showed great pride. You were so loved my him. What a gift that was to have had a father so full of pride and always excited to talk about you.

I wish all of you peace in the coming days, may all of you be blessed in knowing that he is know without pain.
