“ I give my sincere condolences to the families and friends. Mildred was greatly loved and will be missed. The best description of Jehovah God is that he is love. It talks of this at 2 Corinthians 13:11 where it says, "Finally, brothers, continue to rejoice, to be readjusted, to be comforted, to think in agreement, to live peaceably, and the God of love and of peace will be with you." This love is the reason why we can be confident that Jehovah will remember those in the memorial tombs in the near future and we will be reunited with our loved ones. Please take comfort in that knowledge.

“ You all were raised by a loving mother that was always so kind to all of your friends. We always felt at home and have wonderful memories of her. May God be with each of you and comfort you at this time. A mother leaves a void in your heart, and may you fill that void with precious memories of the times you had with her, and she will be with you always.

“ Keeping the Von Hagel Family in our prayers. Tom and I are recalling some awesome BBQs during our visits with Mildred and family. We can't forget Snowball. It is difficult to lose a loved one: she will be remebered as a dedicated hard working lady, devoted Mother. She enjoyed life, endured the challenges, strong with her faith.
