Karen, I haven't seen you in quite a while, but I think about you often. I pray for Karen and George and the whole family that may God be beside you, and comfort you, and help you get through these most difficult times. I am so saddened by this tragic news. My heart aches for Morgan's family. I have always enjoyed visiting with Morgan's family, though it has been many years. They are good people. I feel the ache you feel at a young life being taken away so soon before we get to see the beautiful person blossom fully. I too have experienced this awful loss recently. I do know the pain, the pure agony of letting them go. May God bless your family and give you comfort as Morgan soars with the angels. May you surround yourself with love of family and friends, for this is what will get you through your dark moments.

Tight hugs,
