“ I met Ann and Jerry nearly 40 years ago in Wharton, TX. I moved there in the summer of 1980 as the Abel Street Church of Christ preacher. In the spring of 1981, I became the manager/coach of a Little League baseball team and Bruce was one of my players on that team and that is how I met the whole family. Cricket was only about 5 years old at the time. Jerry and Ann attended the church where I was preaching and we became friends.

We all moved from Wharton eventually but resumed our friendship a few years later when Jerry, Ann, and I worked at The Richmond State school. Ann was the unit secretary on the unit where I was first a QMRP and then what we called at that time a psychologist. Actually, we were associate psychologists. Jerry and my now wife, Wanda, became friends later when they both worked as nurses in the Lamar School District (LCISD).

My and Wanda's heart felt sympathy goes out to Jerry, his and Ann's kids, and all who grieve Ann's passing. I have continued to pray for all of you from the moment I learned of Ann's passing. I will always remember her as a genuine and truly straightforward person with an honest sense of humor. I admired and respected her and Jerry and remember them with loving feelings.
