“ Nana was an amazing women who had endless stories. I remember she would be up late in the night/morning and i would go in and just talk with her and lay down with her. She is an angel who gained her wings looking over anyone and everyone. Love you Nana!

“ These two had such a special bond that not even in death can separate them. Hannah loved her Nana and Nana loved her Hannah. I remember staying over at Mom & Pat’s and Hannah would do word search with her and then help her get in bed and then they would read to each other. Oh how I will remember those special moments. Love and miss you Nana like you wouldn’t believe.

“ Nana was always someone you knew would make your day better, wether it was her smile she could put on your face or just the conversations you had with her. She was so witty for her age and i will always cherish the memories i have of her. I will miss you always nana and will know your looking down on me and everyone.

“ Nana was a big part of our family. There wasn't a day that went by, that she and I would laugh about something. She and I would tease each other. She could give it right back to me. I remember going out to eat and I would ask her if she knew where she was. When she said no, I told Pat to stop and let her out. We laugh about that.

How she hated mud. When it would rain and there was lots of mud in the field, we would ask her if she wanted to play in it.

What a sense of humor she had. I will never forget the loving woman that she was.

God throw away the mold when He made her.

Rest in peace Nana. You will be in our hearts forever.

“ This is hard. I can't pick just one , because everyday I spent with Nana was a memory. Even when I was having a down day and saw Nana she would say the funniest thing and my day would be up.. I think dancing with Nana even though she couldn't move her feet we still laugh. And when I would take her to the doctor .she was always trying to fix me up with some strange man in the lobby. Nana was my story teller, I love you nana and I will miss you.....Cheryl Haley
