“ So sad that I didn't get more time to spend with you. I'm ashamed I didn't reach out earlier and get to know you better - wasted so much time, that I could have gotten to know you and we could have been a part of each other's life. Your coming to Dad's funereal meant the world to me (and to him.) and made an impression on me that I will carry close to my heart forever. It said so much about you as a person. I am grateful that we had some time to talk, laugh and get to know each other. Much love for you, and your sweet family and prayers for a peaceful transition as you move into the next part of your journey. Until we meet again, Robin!! I love you.

Oh Robin, how I miss you sweet friend! I met you 46 years ago-lots of laughter, joy, tears, fun and just life shared! I wish we would have stayed in closer touch these last few years. I was thinking of you the week before you passed-even got out some old pictures to try & scan to send you. How I wish I had. I continue to keep your family in my prayers. Love you always, my bonus sister. ❤️
