Ronald Lee Carter is preceded in death by his parents, S.L. and Cleo Carter, his son Ronald Lee Carter Jr, grandson, Kevin Moers and numerous relatives.

Ron Carter was born July 26, 1936 in Ft. Worth, TX.

Ron was a proud Aggie of Texas A&M University and graduated in 1959 with a degree in Aeronautical Engineering. He was proud of the fact that he worked hard to pay for his college education by flying planes crop dusting.

Upon graduation he worked for numerous oil and gas companies but is most proud of the work he put into starting and developing the Fluor Arabia company in Al Khobar, Saudi Arabia where he served as Vice President for 3 years taking his family along for the journey. He took great pride in his many work achievements and his family achievements at home. He enjoyed years of traveling around the world with his family. He was the owner of numerous boats, campers, RVs, lake homes and several airplanes showing his love for adventure. He loved flying his Cessna and taking his wife, family, and dog all over Texas and the country. Ron was a hardworking man and was most comfortable in his work environment where he was admired by many colleagues. He continued working up until the disease had taken a toll on his thoughts and reasoning.

More than anything, Ron was a man of great faith with a deep devotion to his religion. He believed in Jesus Christ, his savior, so we take great solace and strength knowing he is home with Our Lord in peace.

Dear Sheila and Family
Here is a " Typical Ron" Story
Early in 1968 Ron called and requested me to come to Bay City. At this time, we were living in an apartment in Bellaire. I asked what's going on in Bay City and he replied "I just Purchased an Airplane". I could not believe it but after my arrival at the local airport he negotiated the deal, climbed into the 1948 Air Coupe and we met later at the Hull Airfield in Sugar Land. What a Day!
