“ My husband Art and I wanted to offer our deepest sympathy and condolences. It's never easy losing a dear one but just keep the faith in Christ. For if it is true, then she is with him in paradise. What a wonderful thought not to have any kind of pain and suffering any longer. And know that one day you too will once again be reunited with her in heaven. God bless the family and give you strength during this most difficult time. Our love is with you.
