“ I know that I am late to commenting on this page but I didn't know about this at the time, but this just goes to show that people are still thinking about Sean. I didn't know Sean well but I had him in one of my classes and it was impossible to not be happy when around him. Sean was such a great guy and to this day I don't know anyone who could brighten up a room just by walking in the way he did. He was one of the most loved students in the whole school and even still we are sitting in class talking about how much we miss his amazing personality and friendly smile. We really do miss you Sean. I am so sorry that you are unable to have the experiences that we are all having now. Much love to you and your family.

“ I'm writing this on behalf of my mother, Carmen, who was blessed to have had the opportunity to meet Sean and his family. Carmen is a neighbor who met Sean while she was doing yard work one day and he jumped in to help her move some things. She instantly saw the sincerity and compassion of this young man, he became her little hero, as he would stop by as often as possible.

Although I didn't have the opportunity to meet Sean, I feel as though I have known him for years through all the wonderful things my mom would speak of. Sean and his family have been in our thoughts and prayers for months now, and will continue to hold a place in our hearts.

Thank you Sean for being such blessing, and a ray of sunshine to Carmen! You gave her more joy than you can imagine. She hopes you like the truck she painted just for you. She misses you very much, but knows you are with the Good Lord now, and smiling your beautiful smile!

Our sincere condolences. May God wrap his loving arms around you all, and bring you peace and comfort.

Love,
Carmen and Mary

“ Words cannot express the sense of devastation I felt when I learned of your passing. I hadn't been using social media as much lately so I was unaware of the circumstances leading up to the day you went to be with the Lord. I only knew you for a little while but I thank my God that I knew you at all. Because in the short amount of time I knew you, you made an impact on my life in the way you lived yours. You were incredibly strong for someone so young. I remember paying you a visit. You were sitting at the table and I was stopping by just to drop something off. Not wanting to be an inconvenience, I had in mind to stop by and leave as quickly as I could. In your weakened state, you got up from the table and met me at the foyer just to give me a hug. It touched me more than you realize and I'll always cherish that beautiful memory. I send my condolences to your mother Juanita, your father Jake, your brother Jayden and the rest of your incredible family. May God continue to give you all boundless strength, fill you with peace that passes understanding, and shower His love upon you now and forever. Until we meet again, Sean.

Love ya kiddo!

“ Sean was always joyful and outgoing towards everyone he met. Although we didn't talk that much, I knew Sean was a wonderful person.

“ Sean was in at least three of my classes since 6th grade. He was always really nice and funny. Even though he's gone um I still feel like I'm just gonna walk in class one day and he'll be here, still. I never knew anyone as sweet as he was, I'm not really the nicest girl in the world. But I know his life was full of all the good things, and I only hope that I can one day be half the person he was. I didn't really talk to Sean but he is still someone who had the gift of kindness in his heart. He was always really smart too. If I had trouble in math he'd explain it to me from across the room and I'm grateful for that. There's not many people like Sean, and my only regret was not really appreciating his caring for others. Rest In Peace Sean. And I hope for those reading this, that you find the same Peace on earth that Sean has in heaven.
