“ It has taken me some time to really grasp the fact that he is gone. I met Steve sometime in 2009 when we were both riding motorcycles with a church group.

Steve had an infectious laugh and a personality that just drew you to him.

We took some of the best motorcycle rides into Arkansas and shared laughs and tears. I was honored to be in his wedding party when he married the love of his life, Donna.

I will miss my friend.

“ Greetings,

Mr. Britt was my favorite out of all of the teachers I've had. He would say many funny things, and even had a few of his own quotes. I remember every time an office assistant would enter the classroom with something for one of the students, he would say "Who do we get to kill...I just need the paperwork." That always made me laugh, even if I was having a bad day. I also remember that before the start of every class period, Mr. Britt would stand outside of the classroom and chant "Hurry! Hurry, Hurry, Hurry!" to the students who were running behind. He had many other great quotes, but those two are his most iconic. I will miss Mr. Britt, and offer my sincerest condolences to his family and friends.

Kindest regards,

Brandon More, a student of Cypress Woods HS

“ Steve and I were always going to make it big network marketing 🤝
We were into this art business...we drove all the way to Las Vegas to do a presentation. Well.. we never made it big , but I will never forget that road trip with my friend. See you again my brother ❤️

“ I was lucky enough to meet Steve back in 2007 when I was taking a motorcycle safety training class. The instructor, Louie, introduced himself then had us all stand up to meet and greet each other. He said "I want you to get to know each other and ride together, become friends". Steve happened to be next to me. We shook hands and a friendship was started.

Steve would lead some amazing motorcycle rides out in the middle of nowhere and back. seems that no matter where we ended up, we would run into his former students who were always very happy to see him.

Even at restaurants or other public areas if he saw "the ring" he would go out of his way to greet that stranger and would say "Steve Britt, class of....".

I don't think he knew a stranger.

Steve is more family than friend. He will be missed more than words can convey.

We can all be happy for him because he is with his wife now.

“ Mr. Britt was my STEM Practicum teacher this year. He was always so lighthearted and cheery in class. I started the year off alone because while I knew everyone in the class, they did not know me as well. Despite this, Mr. Britt treated me with gentleness and kindness as if I belonged in the class---as if he wanted me in the class. It really touched my life and I really wish I was able to get to know him better. I'm really going to miss him, his stories, and his jokes.

“ To Steve’s family I pray that you will draw comfort in knowing that Steve made a difference in the lives of many students who passed through his classroom. As a fellow teacher he was a positive influence to those of us worked with him. But more importantly he lived out his faith in Jesus Christ. I will not be able to attend his service but know you are being prayed for.

“Mr. Britt was my engineering design teacher for two years. He was always so helpful when we were learning new designs, and he always knew how to make us laugh. Once I was singing in class and Mr. Britt asked, “What’d you do with the money? The money we gave you for singing lessons!” Mr. Britt is the reason I love engineering and hope to be an engineer someday. And I love all the stories he had to tell.

“*Dear Steven,
I'm writing this not to say goodbye, but to thank you for everything you were to me and everyone who was lucky enough to know you. It's still so difficult to believe you're gone. The world feels a little dimmer without your unique light in it, but I know the memories we made will never fade.
You were a true friend, and I'll always be grateful for the time we had together. I'll remember the laughter, the wisdom you shared, and the way you always made people feel valued and appreciated. There is a hole in my life now that you are not here, but I will carry the spirit of your kindness with me.
Love you my friend you will be missed*

“ I’ve known Steven since we were teenagers and there are too many memories to list them all. However, one comes to mind more often.

I went to visit Steven in New Braunfels when I was looking to go to college there. He was always such a gentleman. We started writing letters after that to stay in touch. One day I received a letter in shorthand. He knew that would drive me nuts! LOL. I received the translation a week later...

I still have those letters even though this was 39 years ago!

He will be missed beyond words, but am comforted knowing that he is with his sweet Donna and his parents. Love you, Steven
