

Sue Staggs

December 24, 1943 - April 25, 2010

Sue Staggs, 66, passed away at her home in her sleep on April 25, 2010. She was the executive director of Community Action Partnership for Prevention, a community-based coalition addressing drug abuse and crime. Widely recognized for her work in the war on drugs in schools and communities, Mrs. Staggs led passage of 28 city ordinances to combat prostitution, illegal liquor and street drug sales in Richmond, Texas; additionally, she led a campaign to deny renewals of alcohol licenses in a high-alcohol use area, created a countywide task force to reduce underage drinking and reduced alcohol signage at County Fair and Rodeo.

Her lifelong interest in youth was manifest in her years as a high school teacher and as the developer of teen leadership programs such as "Tomorrow's Leaders Today" recognized by the Texas Education Agency as a "promising practice". She established more than 200 teen coalitions across Texas in which 100% completed community projects. She co-wrote and was organizing director of "Texans Standing Tall", a statewide coalition to reduce underage drinking. Mrs. Staggs was a CADCA Leader/Mentor and co-chaired the Project of National Significance. Her 26-year span of work with non-profit organizations includes work with the Arthritis Foundation, the American Diabetes Association, the YWCA, the American Red Cross, and federal programs CADCA, CSAP, and SAMSHA.

Among organizations who have recognized her work and her passion for service are the 4-H Clubs and the American Diabetes Association. In 2007, at the CADCA National leadership Forum XVII, she was awarded the prestigious national Advocate of the Year designation. Her passion was helping people, individually and collectively. Her talents at counseling, teaching, and organizing will be missed; and her infectious love of life will continue to impact those who knew her.

Immediate family survivors are her husband of 37 years, Alton; son, Montgomery and wife, Kristen, of Fort Collins, Colorado; son, Mitchell, of Richmond; and grandchildren on whom she doted, Mason and Zoe, of Fort Collins.

Memorial services for Sue will be held at 2:00 P. M., Thursday, April 29, 2010 at Davis-Greenlawn Funeral Chapel in Rosenberg.

For those wishing, donations in memory of Sue may be made to any Habitat For Humanity organization.

“ Sue and I became good friends at the age of 4 when we took dance from Carolyn Frank. I tried to convince her that I was always right since I was ten days older, however even at that early age, she could see that it was not logical. We danced our way through school and I will miss her terribly. My thoughts and prayers are with her family. She was an awesome person. Margaret Agnew Telford

“ My condolences goes out to the Stagg family. It was a blessing to know and work with Sue. I remember she had to have that Dr. Pepper every morning before we got started. I loved her desire and passion she had for every project she worked on. She was such an awesome person as she inspired hundreds. Sue, you are an true example of what we as humans should strive for in the little time we have here. The impact you left in the lives of many is a far greater legacy than any other accomplishments. You will be missed but always remembered.

“ To The Staggs Family:

My life was blessed the day I met such beautiful young lady. She was some one I admired and looked up to. She was the person I wanted to be like when I grew up.

My joy and passion is the same as hers because of Mrs. Sue I am who I am!

Her life and legacy lives on in the life of those she touched.

Be comforted!
