“ Sue and I became friends back in the 1960's when we met while attending the University of Houston. Sue always had a smile and a kind word and we had many fun times together. Later in our lives while raising our children, we became like family. She became close with my Mom whom she and all her family called Yiayia. And after I lost my husband, Sue and her husband Martin, looked after me. I shall always remember both of them.

“ We called her Aunt Sue because Mom raised us to think of her as an aunt she was such a dear friend to her. I loved her sense of humor and smile and laugh. My kids and I enjoyed our visits with her while in the assisted living place. Her face lit up when she saw us. We will always cherish our memories with her. She is missed a lot and has been for us for some time now.
