“Cheat, I think about you a lot, and I miss you even more. I paused for a few minutes of reflection for you on the 12th. I thought about us writing our Lamplighter articles in your living room. We had lots of laughs and great times. Miss you my friend.”

“As a DC and CCSP student of Dr. Tim Lee at Texas Chiropractic College ten years ago, I want to voice what a remarkable instructor I felt he was. My fellow students and I learned so very much of value from the man widely regarded by his students as a guru of rehab. His teachings and practical advice are a part of chiropractic care by alumni nationwide on a daily basis. His wit was legendary. He truly left the world a better place, and, as I did face to face with him upon my graduation, I humbly thank him once again.”

“ Tim was my mentor Attending Clinician in '99-'00 while I was chief intern. I always felt he was on the same page with me since we were close in age & valued his advice when he was passing advice that I use to this day in practice. I'll see you on the other side my friend!

“ I just learned of Cheat's passing. I am deeply saddened by the loss of my dear friend. He was best man at my wedding, an avid Marx Brother's fan, my writing partner for the OCC Lamplighter newspaper, and so much more. I will always remember our coaching of the Prarie Farms Little League team and capturing the championship the last year that we coached; that night was also the evening that he left Olney to begin a new life with his parents in Texas. We shared so many great times and adventures together over the years including attending many concerts together throughout high school and college. We saw KISS, Bob Seger, Alice Cooper, REO Speedwagon and a host of other classic bands perform. Through the years we remained in touch. I will always remember his laugh, his jokes, his kindness. You will be missed my dear friend. My heartfelt condolences to his family, and to the many friends and students whose lives were fortunate enough to be touched in some way by his presence and amazing persona.
