“Wanda was the best friend I had in Houston. I met her when I worked at National Airlines. She was trustworthy, kind, and really a fun person. I have lots of stories about our ventures as "single ladies" going out way back in the 70's. After moving back to Texas from California, I invited her to go on a free cruise in 2017, and people enjoyed us because, like Wanda said, "We're like Lucy and Ethel" ("I Love Lucy") because we kept getting lost on the ship and people would laugh. I wonder if Jeffrey and Mandy remember us getting stuck up high in the tram over the park. I hate that I didn't know that she was sick and missed the funeral due to my not checking my messages on Facebook. Even though miles apart and time passes, true friendship never dies. I will miss her laugh. We had lots of fun together. God bless her family. She loved her family more than anything.

“I worked with Wanda for many years. She was a great co-worker, and a dedicated travel agent. She was a true southern lady: kind and gentle, with the strength of a steel magnolia. She loved and cared for her family, and spoke of them often. I am so sorry for your loss. I know she will be missed terribly. Katie Winzer Wilson
